

Last Updated on 9/16/2020

Did you get your stimulus check?

It's not too late to get your Economic Impact Payment worth $1,200+

This guide is to help you claim the Economic Impact Payment. Most people who make less than $99,000, are entitled to an Economic Impact Payment. If you haven't seen your payment, go to IRS.gov now and use the Get My Payment tool or call the national United Way Helpline at +1.844.322.3639 for assistance.

For the latest updates on Economic Impact Payments, please go to www.irs.gov/eip.

Do I qualify for the Economic Impact Payment?

Taxpayers (who have a valid Social Security numbers) with adjusted gross income up to $75,000 for individuals and up to $150,000 for married couples filing joint returns to qualify for the full payment.

I'm eligible. What do I need to do to receive the payment?

If you already filed a 2018 or 2019 tax return, no action is required. The IRS will issue the payment to you automatically.

Social Security, Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) or Supplemental Security Insurance (SSI) or railroad retiree or Veteran Affairs (VA) recipients (who are otherwise not required to file a tax return) are eligible to receive an auto payment and will not be required to file a return.

Where can I check the status of my Payment?

Check the status of your payment on IRS.gov using the Get My Payment tool. You can also update direct deposit information using this tool as well as checking the status of your payment.

If I don't have a filing requirement, can I submit my info through the IRS Non-Filers tool?

If you have any tax withholdings on your tax documents, you may be eligible for a tax refund and should file a return. Visit www.FreeTaxExperts.org to remotely connect with a certified tax volunteer or call the national United Way Helpline at +1.844.322.3639 for assistance with the IRS Non-Filers tool.

If I owe taxes, or have a Payment agreement with the IRS, or owe other federal debts, will I still get the Payment?

The Payment will be offset by past-due child support. The Bureau of the Fiscal Service will send you a notice if this occurs. Your payment will not be interrupted if you owe back taxes or have student loan debt; you will receive the full amount. If you use direct deposit and owe your bank overdraft fees, the bank may deduct these from your payment.

I don't have a bank account. What can I do?

If you don't have a bank account, a paper check will be sent to the address you listed on your tax return. You might also receive a prepaid VISA debit card issued by Meta Bank, a Treasury sponsored program. Please activate this card when you receive it. Direct Deposit is the quickest and safest way to get payments. Check out <https://covidbanking.joinbankon.org> for accounts offered by financial institutions that meet national standards. Also, if you have CashApp, Venmo or Paypal, they are participating with receiving payments, contact their respective support team to get set up. Locally in Seattle, WA you can visit Compass Center Client Services Office and they maybe able to help. They are located at Pioneer Square, at 77 S Washington St, Seattle, WA 98104. Please call 1-206-474-1000 to find out the most current procedure.

Do not provide bank account information for someone else, different names on the tax return and the bank account will trigger a reject of the deposit.

What if I don't have a mailing address?

Shelters and other service providers, such as drop-in day centers, may allow you to use their address for tax purposes. Call 2-1-1 for more information. The IRS will also deliver to P.O. boxes. People experiencing homelessness may submit a request for a free P.O. Box at their local Post Office. Contact your local Postmaster at +1-800-275-8777 for more information.

Visit www.FreeTaxExperts.org or call the national United Way Helpline at +1.844.322.3639 for assistance